

Contents

Acknowledgements — VII

Abbreviations — IX

List of Illustrations — XI

Introduction — 1

Part One: Imperial Germany

Chapter 1. The Threat of the Proletariat and the Discourse of the Masses — 33

Chapter 2. Proletarian Dreams: From Marx to Marxism — 49

Chapter 3. Emotional Socialism and Sentimental Masculinity — 64

Chapter 4. On Workers Singing in One Voice — 84

Chapter 5. The Proletarian Prometheus and Socialist Allegory — 100

Chapter 6. Ferdinand Lassalle, the First Socialist Celebrity — 120

Chapter 7. Re/Writing Workers' Emotions — 138

Chapter 8. The Socialist Project of Culture and Education — 155

Part Two: Weimar Republic

Chapter 9. Revolutionary Fantasy and Proletarian Masculinity — 177

Chapter 10. The Revolutionary Fantasy Revisited — 193

Chapter 11. Franz Wilhelm Seiwert's Critical Empathy — 205

Chapter 12. Social Democracy and the Performance of Community —	222
Chapter 13. Taking a Stand: The Habitus of Agitprop —	238
Chapter 14. Marxist Literary Theory and Communist Militant Culture —	255
Chapter 15. The Emotional Education of the Proletarian Child —	270
Chapter 16. Wilhelm Reich and the Politics of Proletarian Sexuality —	288
Chapter 17. John Heartfield's Productive Rage —	301
Chapter 18. Kuhle Wampe and "Those Who Don't Like It" —	319
Afterword: A Historiography of the Proletarian Dream —	334
Select Bibliography —	357
Index —	362