

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
Contributors	x
Introduction
Imagining ethical security studies	1
Jonna Nyman and Anthony Burke
PART I
Foundations of ethical security	15
1 Security: critique, analysis and ethics	17
Vivienne Jabri
2 Whose security? Ethics and the referent	32
Matt McDonald
3 World security: towards a 'local' research agenda	46
Ali Bilgiç
4 Posthuman security/ethics	60
Audra Mitchell

PART II

Visions and debate

73

- 5 The promise of theories of just securitisation

75

Rita Floyd

- 6 Security, emancipation and the ethics of vulnerability

89

João Nunes

- 7 The promise and dangers of human security

102

Annick T. R. Wibben

- 8 Feminist care ethics and everyday insecurities

116

Fiona Robinson

- 9 Pragmatism, practice and the value of security

131

Jonna Nyman

- 10 The ethical sources of security cosmopolitanism

145

Anthony Burke

- 11 Ethics and ontological security

160

Christopher Browning

- 12 War, ethics and the individual

174

Helen Dexter

- 13 The decolonial option: toward an ethic of self-securing

189

Priya Chacko

- 14 Activism, resistance and security

201

Chris Rossdale

Conclusion

Security as ethics: an orthogonal rotation from egoism
to compassion

216

K. M. Fierke

Index

229