

CONTENTS

Original Articles

- 227 The security of politicians: towards a research agenda
Neil Matthews and Sean Haughey
- 257 'Trust the messenger': Public trust in sources of information on COVID-19
Ben Seyd, Joseph A. Hamm, Will Jennings, Lawrence McKay and Meridith Anness
- 279 You are unmuted: The impact of virtual arrangements on women and old age legislators' participation during the COVID-19 pandemic
Wang Leung Ting
- 304 Duration of coalition formation in the German states: Inertia and familiarity in a multilevel setting
Katrin Praprotnik, Maria Thürk and Svenja Krauss
- 329 Parliamentary questions to the House of Commons Commission: Accountability and parliamentary administration
Francesca Melhuish and Ben Yong
- 354 Practice makes 'perfect'? The effect of committee specialization on the complexity of parliamentary speeches
Petra Vodová and Petr Voda
- 379 What citizens think about minority governments in majority coalition settings
Theres Matthieß and Christian Stecker
- 401 Candidates nomination strategy in a mixed electoral system: Evidence from the 2022 Italian general election
Matteo Boldrini

425 Populism as a centrist strategy for disqualification: The use of
'populism(s)/populist(s)' in Belgian, French and Spanish Parliaments
Jessy Bailly, Coline Rondiat, Anaïs Augé and Min Reuchamps

Correction

451 Correction to: Populism as a centrist strategy for disqualification: The use of 'populism(s)/populist(s)' in Belgian, French and Spanish Parliaments