

Contents

Series Editor's Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
PART 1
Locating Poland within the racialized “Boundaries of Europeanness”	33
1 Eastern Europe: the “other” geographies in the colonial global economy 1569–1795	35
2 Polish Lebensraum : the colonial ambition to expand on racial terms 1880s–1930s	61
3 Eugenics, race, and nation-formation in Central and Eastern Europe 1900s–1940s	98
PART 2
Living with experiences of race and racism	135
4 “Polish-centrism”: making sense of race and racism in contemporary Poland	137
5 Introducing and recontextualizing racial microaggressions in Poland	153
6 Nacjonalizm – “the Polish national character?”	182
Epilogue: demystifying race and racism in Poland	216
Index	225