
Contents

Foreword from Labrador	xiv
Foreword from Newfoundland	xvi
Preface	xviii
Project Materials	xxi
Abbreviations	xxii
1 A Restorative Approach—Narrative Threads	I
Defamiliarizing family violence	1
Feminist action against family violence	2
An unexpected conclusion	3
Feminist kin-making	4
From resemblance to affinity	4
An imposed ethic of care	5
From taking to tending	5
A restorative approach and family violence	6
Culturally responsive	6
Multiplying benefits	7
Instigating change	8
Western restorative traditions	8
Gendered shaming	8
Movements to colorize restorative justice	9
Growing openness	10
Resistance to White supremacy	10
Accountability for racial justice	11
Endogenous-exogenous solutions	12
Learnings	13
Cultural practice and rights	13
A family group or the family group	13
Recognition without the necessary power and means	14

Communicating relatedness and belonging	15
Rights and family violence	16
Reconfiguring old partnerships	17
Restorative justice and responsive regulation	18
A disconnect between family-based approaches and restorative justice	18
Liberatory framework	19
Anti-carceral feminism	20
Building trust in government	21
Legitimate regulation	22
Remarkably suited	23
Most severe test?	23
Serious, frequent, violent, and personal	23
And familial	24
Shifting masculinities	24
Lessening stress, gaining confidence	25
From misrecognition to recognition	25
Catalyst for change	26
Threads and contradictory tensions	26
Narrative thread 1: Restoring family and cultural leadership	26
Narrative thread 2: Storytelling for hope and recovery	27
Narrative thread 3: Regulating responsively the healing process	27
Narrative thread 4: Cascading trust and nonviolence	28
The relevance of location	29
Notes	30
References	32

2 FGDM Example—A Newfoundland Story

43

Cultural storytelling for liberatory transformation	43
White settler-narrated magic tales	43
Working-class resistance	44
Domestic struggles	44
Tales of transformation	45
The FGDM lead-up	46
Another angle	47
Restoring family and cultural leadership	48
Sarah's determination	48
Two sides at odds with each other	48
Appealing to both sides of the family	49
Supports for those harmed	49
Orienting service providers	50

Parole's uncertainties, George's alarm	50
Nourishing homegrown leadership	50
Storytelling for hope and recovery	52
Weighted toward family and women	52
Leveling the field	53
Professional accounts	53
Fathers and sons	54
Magnifying suppressed perspectives	54
Regulating responsively the healing process	55
A mix of systems	56
Informal connecting	56
Getting behind sensible ideas	56
Hybridizing governance	57
Cascading trust and nonviolence	59
Out of contact	59
Doing well	59
Smartening up	59
Critical impact, new directions	59
Some further questions	61
Notes	62
References	63

3 FGDM Project Planning—Local Organizing, Emergent Responsive Regulation 65

At home	65
Shaped by cultural context	66
National feminist contentions	66
Community decision	67
Port au Port Peninsula	68
Local organizing: Helping out	68
Economic changes and the status of women	68
Local management of visits	69
Helping out and family violence	70
Nain	70
Local organizing: Inuit-specific, Inuit women led	70
Healing each other	71
Our beautiful land	72
Land as healer	73
Multilayered consensual decision to participate	73
St. John's	74

Local organizing: State engagement	74
Women's precarity	75
Bridging	76
Expanding project discussions	77
Joint funding and resourcing	77
Family Violence Initiative	77
Resourcing family costs	78
Rapid start-up	79
Community leadership, emergent responsive regulation	80
Notes	81
References	82

4 FGDM Conferencing—Resetting Narrative, Revitalizing Culture 87

That family	87
Lowering barriers	87
The agency of narratives	88
Narrative inquiry	89
Project assumptions	89
Embedding project assumptions	90
Conferencing resets	90
Conference implementation	90
Taking responsibility versus responsabilization	91
Families making decisions	91
Conference outcomes	92
Backed by child welfare assessments	94
Getting unstuck	97
Cultural revival	97
Mi'kmaw revival in Western NL	99
Mi'kmaw Family & Children's Services of Nova Scotia, Canada	99
Wikimanej Kikmanaq—Family circles as an authentic experience for Mi'kmaw families	101
Notes	107
References	108

5 Concluding Possibilities—Cascading Trust in Families and Cultural Networks 112

Restorative making-with	112
Storylines of feminist kin-making	113

No binary answer	113
Hybrid of allies	114
Turning to families and culture	114
Wanting FGC for own family	114
Messages of caution and hope	115
Don't assume costs are always the issue for government	115
Beware of risk aversion and slippage into familiar paradigms	116
Check which system is making the most referrals to a program	117
Consider the impact of the type of legislation on delivering conferences	118
Keep programs closely tied to cultural networks and local communities	118
Attend to the needs of all family members	119
Be mindful of the workers	119
Doing the deep work with the feminist community	120
Establishing restorative jurisdictions	120
Creating international learning communities for researchers	121
Cascading trust in families and cultural networks	121
Notes	122
References	122