

Contents

Prologue 1

Part One Anthropology: What is a human being?

- 1 We are dialogue 9
- 2 The primacy of relation 12
- 3 The life-world of the I–You relation 15
- 4 The innate ‘You’: the basic package 19
- 5 The dialogue with alterity: narratives and the dialectic of identity 22
- 6 A closer look into alterity: eccentricity 28
- 7 The Uncanny and the secretly familiar double 30
- 8 Epiphanies of alterity: drive 33
- 9 Habitus: the emergence of alterity in social situations 36
- 10 Emotions: the person in between moods and affects 39
- 11 A closer look at moods and affects: intentionality and temporality 42
- 12 Emotions and the dialectic of narrative identity 45
- 13 Alterity and the recoil of one’s actions 48
- 14 Alterity and the other person: the anatomy of recognition 50
- 15 The basic need for recognition 53
- 16 A logic for recognition: heterology 55
- 17 An anthropology of non-recognition 57

Part Two Psychopathology: What is a mental disorder?

- 1 First steps towards the person-centred, dialectical model of mental disorders 65
- 2 What is a symptom? 68
- 3 The truth about symptoms 71
- 4 Symptom as cypher 75

- 5 Conflicting values: the case with post partum depression 80
- 6 The body as alterity: the case with gender dysphoria 84
- 7 The trauma of non-recognition 89
- 8 Erotomania and idolatrous desire 92
- 9 Depression and the idealization of common-sense desire 95
- 10 Borderline existence and the glorification of a thrilled flesh 98
- 11 Schizophrenia and the disembodiment of desire 101

Part Three Therapy: What is care?

- 1 The portrait of the clinician as a globally minded citizen 109
- 2 The chiasm 114
- 3 The P.H.D. method 117
- 4 Empathy and beyond 123
- 5 Second-order empathy 131
- 6 Unfolding 139
- 7 Position-taking 147
- 8 Responsibility 155
- 9 Perspective-taking 165
- 10 What is a story? 168
- 11 Personal life-history 174
- 12 Intimacy 179

Epilogue: Dialectic Method and Dialogue 189

References 197

Index 209