

CONTENTS

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| About the Author   | vii       |
| Dedication   | viii      |
| 1 Populism and Globalization: Uneasy Bedfellows          | 1  |
| Introduction  | 1         |
| Globalization and Populism: Some Preliminary Remarks            | 4         |
| Populism and the Politics of Discontent                         | 6         |
| Populism and Globalization: The Beginning of a Thesis           | 11        |
| 2 What's in a Name? Populism in Thought (and Some Deeds) | 14 |
| Introduction  | 14        |
| Does All This Have a Provenance?                                | 17        |
| The Variety of Populisms  | 20        |
| Populism in Tooth and Claw: A Conceptual Excursion              | 23        |
| Populism as Ideology – Maybe                                    | 26        |
| Populism as a Discursive Frame                                  | 30        |
| 3 Populism in Practice: Causes, Correlates and Crises    | 34 |
| Introduction  | 34        |
| Populism in Practice  | 35        |
| So Who are 'the People'?  | 36        |
| Trends and Tendencies in Populist Support                       | 39        |
| The Issue Correlates of Populism: Complex Causation             | 41        |
| Populism: National Politics as a Source of Mediation            | 43        |
| Motivational Factors: Attitudinal Correlates of Support for     |           |
| Populism/Micro Data and Macro Trends                            | 46        |
| So Why Populism Now? What are the Sources of Discontent         |           |
| and Insecurity?   | 48        |

|          |  |           |
|----------|--|-----------|
| 4 | Populism and the New Globalization  | 55 |
|          | Introduction: The Populism–Globalization Paradox   | 55        |
|          | Globalization as Connection and Consciousness  | 58        |
|          | Globalization Then and Now   | 60        |
|          | The ‘New’ Globalization  | 62        |
| 5 | Populism: Pathological Localism or Vernacular Globalization?                      | 72 |
|          | Introduction   | 72        |
|          | Glocalization, Localization and Localism   | 74        |
|          | Localization and Localism  | 77        |
|          | Populism and Localism  | 78        |
|          | Populism as Pathological Localism or Vernacular Glocalization                            | 80        |
| 6 | Postmodern Populism, Globalization and the Crisis of Modernity                    | 85 |
|          | Introduction   | 85        |
|          | Modernity–Postmodernity and the Language of Transformation                               | 86        |
|          | Postmodernity and Postmodernism  | 92        |
|          | The Features of Postmodern Populism  | 95        |
|          | Epilogue: Postmodern Populism and the New Globalization – Reasons to be Cheerful? | 105       |
|          | Global Politics and the Politics of Revolt   | 107       |
|          | Reasons to be Cheerful?  | 108       |
|          | References   | 111       |
|          | Index  | 121       |