

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction JENNIFER DALY	1
Revolutionary Road: Mental Illness and Socio-Political Control JOANNA WILSON	11
Playing Suburbia in Revolutionary Road RORY MCGINLEY	30
The Geography of Identity in The Easter Parade RONA CRAN	50
Aversion as Diversion: The Politics of Disgust in Cold Spring Harbor CHLOÉ AVRIL	70
Richard Yates's Autofictions and the Politics of Canonization SOPHIE A. JONES	87
Richard Yates and Marriage: The Failed Idea of America and the Legacy of F. Scott Fitzgerald HELEN TURNER	107
What About the Children? KATE CHARLTON-JONES	122
Performing Masculinity, Masculinity as Performance: Faking It as Men in the Short Fiction of Richard Yates KARL WOOD	140

vi Table of Contents

Antifeminist or Antipatriarchal? Richard Yates's Critique of Hegemonic Masculinity in Young Hearts Crying 158
RUBÉN CENAMOR

About the Contributors 177

Index 179