

Contents

List of Illustrations, Graphs and Tables	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Abbreviations and Terminology	xii
Introduction	1
Approaches and historical context	4
Comparative urban contexts	7
Research methods and sources	9
1 Ottoman Sarajevo	13
Urban spatial separation, including residential, trade and government features	16
Architecture and building methods	24
Demography and confessions: confessional institutions, schools and vakufs	26
2 The Public Face: Sarajevo as the New Capital of an Austrian Province	33
Priorities	35
Building regulations and their implementation	43
Public health and safety	48
Transport, communications and other infrastructure	53
The importance of record	55
Military presence	57
Civil presence	59
Confessional public buildings	64
Schools	69
3 The Private Face: Middle-Class Building Development in Sarajevo	73
Private development	74
Areas of development	78
Mapping and recording change and private ownership	80

	Spatial comparison of property ownership by confession, 1886–1918	82
	Building development: the investors	87
	Property portfolios	90
	The new middle class: architects and style	92
	The buildings: a chronological and visual survey	95
4	Sarajevo at the Centre of the Developing Bosnian Economy	107
	Developing the economy of the city – beginnings	108
	Schmarda, the Lagerhaus and business networks in Sarajevo	112
	Local businesses	115
	The economy at street level – shops and services	119
	Later development	128
5	The Development of a Middle-Class Society	131
	Apartment life and layouts	133
	Clubs and societies	139
	European ways of knowing and understanding	144
	Newspapers and periodicals	150
6	Conspicuous Consumption and Cultures of Urban Display	159
	City-centre shopping	161
	Entertainment	165
	Cafés	168
	Hotels	171
	Tourism and the development of the Ilidža spa	173
	European ways of death	178
	Conclusion	181
	Notes	189
	Bibliography	231
	Name Index	241
	Subject Index	244