

Contents

Acknowledgments	page vi
Introduction	1
Part I
Andreas Reckwitz
The Theory of Society as a Tool	9
1. Doing Theory	11
2. Practice Theory as Social Theory	27
3. The Practice of Modernity	39
4. The Theory of Society at Work: From Bourgeois and Industrial Modernity to Late Modernity	59
5. Theory as Critical Analytics	80
6. Coda: The Experimentalism of Theory	90
Part II
Hartmut Rosa
Best Account: Outlining a Systematic Theory of Modern Society	95
1. What Is a Theory of Society and What Can It Do?	97
2. Dynamic Stabilization and the Expansion of Our Share of the World: An Analysis of the Modern Social Formation	114
3. Desynchronization and Alienation: A Diagnosis and Critique of Modernity	127
4. Adaptive Stabilization and Resonance: A Therapeutic and Transgressive Outline of an Alternative Horizon	141
Part III
Modernity and Critique: A Conversation with Martin Bauer	159
Notes	201