

Contents

List of Figures	ix
List of Tables	x
List of Contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xvi
1 Screen Cultures and Language Education: Current and Future Trends in Teaching, Learning and Research Carmen Herrero and Marta F. Suarez	1
Part One: Entertainment Media: Informed Research and Practice
2 Screen Media in Language Education: Towards a Student-Centred Approach Carmen Herrero, Marta F. Suarez and Alicia Sánchez-Requena	17
3 Integrating Screen Media into the Language Curriculum Carmen Herrero	47
4 Bridging the Gaps Left by Boredom and Sociocultural Misperceptions: Does Foreign-Film Pedagogy Hold the Answer? Mark Goodwin	69
5 Teaching Languages to Generation Z Students: The Impact of the Use of Audiovisual Materials in the Spanish Classroom Nazaret Pérez Nieto and Ares Llop Naya	89
6 Language Education at the BBC: Past, Present and Future Steven Barclay	115
Part Two: Interactive Screen Media: Informed Research and Practice
7 Designing an International Tourism Fair To Improve Students' Learning with Collaborative Work Azahara Veroz González and Soledad Díaz Alarcón	139

8	Translating Film Reviews as a Means of Improving Students' Interlinguistic and Plurilingual Abilities Mazal Oaknín	159
9	Benefits and Drawbacks of Using Social Networking Sites in Higher Education: The Case of Facebook as a Transmedia English-Language Teaching Tool Jelena Bobkina and Elena Domínguez Romero	179
10	The Kinaesthetics of Gamification: Exploring the Theory behind Exergaming as a Potential Aid to Language Learning Chris McGuirk	199
11	Video-Based Approaches to Foreign-Language Pedagogy: Two Case Studies on Techno-CLIL in the Secondary School Classroom in Italy and the Netherlands Michael Thomas and Valentina Morgana	223
12	Participatory Video in Practice: Filming with Women from the Sudanese Community in Bradford Simona Manni	247
	Glossary	265
	Index	269