
Contents

List of contributors	viii
1 Introduction Benoît Mayer and François Crépeau	1
PART I PERSPECTIVES ON THE CLIMATE-MIGRATION NEXUS
2 Climate-related migration and its linkages to vulnerability, adaptation, and socio-economic inequality: evidence from recent examples Robert McLeman	29
3 ‘Climate-induced migration’: ways forward in the face of an intrinsically equivocal concept Calum T.M. Nicholson	49
4 Representation and misrepresentation of climate migrants Carol Farbotko	67
PART II EXISTING LAWS AND INSTITUTIONS
5 The inadequacy of international refugee law in response to environmental migration Christel Cournil	85
6 The relevance of the Guiding Principles on Internal Displacement for the climate change-migration nexus Elizabeth Ferris	108
7 Climate change, human rights and migration: a legal analysis of challenges and opportunities Siobhán McInerney-Lankford	131
8 Indigenous peoples, climate migration and international human rights law in Africa, with reflections on the relevance of the Kampala Convention Ademola Oluborode Jegede	169

vi	Research handbook on climate change, migration and the law
9	International climate change law perspectives Maxine Burkett	190
10	Displacement due to responses to climate change: the role of a rights-based approach Sébastien Jodoin, Kathryn Hansen and Caylee Hong	205
11	Climate change, migration and the law of state responsibility Benoît Mayer	238
12	Regional responses to climate change and migration in Latin America Erika Pires Ramos and Fernanda de Salles Cavedon-Capdeville	262
13	Organizational perspectives: International Organization for Migration's role and perspectives on climate change, migration and the law Gervais Appave, Alice Sironi, Mariam Traore Chazalnoël, Dina Ionesco and Daria Mokhnacheva	288
14	Organizational perspective from the International Labour Organization Sophia Kagan, Meredith Byrne and Michelle Leighton	316
15	Engaging the media on climate-linked migration Alex Randall	331

PART III WAYS FORWARD?

16	Ethical duties to climate migrants Katrina M. Wyman	347
17	When climate-induced migration meets loss and damage: a weakening agenda-setting process? Chloé Anne Vlassopoulos	376
18	The refugees of the Anthropocene François Gemenne	394
19	Towards a global governance system to protect climate migrants: taking stock Frank Biermann and Ingrid Boas	405
20	Towards a climate change displacement facility Ilona Millar and Kylie Wilson	420

21	Towards an extension of complementary protection? Susan F. Martin	449
	Afterword James C. Hathaway	467
	Index	471