

Contents

Brief Overview	ix
To the Instructor	xiii
A Framework for Critical Writing	xv
Main Features of the Book	xvi
To the Student: Before You Begin	xxix
Test It Out	xxx
A Few Things to Keep in Mind as You Work through This Book	xxxiv
Acknowledgments	xxxvii

CHAPTER 1 Thinking about Writing 1

Writing and Critical Writing	1
The Components of a Paper	4
Getting Familiar with the Components of a Paper: Extended Examples	8
Reflecting on the Process of Critical Writing	16
Adapting Critical Writing to Your Own Individuality	18
The Tasks That Lie Ahead	20
Writing for Clarity: SEE-I	21
A Framework for Critical Writing	27
Chapter 1: Practice and Assessment Exercises	29

CHAPTER 2 Beginning the Paper: The Elements of Reasoning 35

Introducing the Elements of Reasoning	35
The Elements of Reasoning	36
Getting a "Feel" for the Elements: Using the Elements to Understand a Topic	40

Thinking Your Way through a Topic: Analyzing “Around the Circle” 42

Examples in Practice 44

The Usefulness of the Elements of Reasoning 58

So What Is Critical Thinking? 61

Chapter 2: Practice and Assessment Exercises 62

Self-Assessment: Test It Out #1 69

CHAPTER 3 Constructing the Paper: Planning, Researching, Writing 73

Constructing the Paper Out of the Analysis: Thesis, Main Points,
Structure, Outline 73

Going through the Process, Step-by-Step: An Example, with Commentary 77

Enhanced SEE-I: Developing Your Paper 84

Researching the Paper 87

Two Roles of Research in Planning and Writing a Paper 88

Doing Background Research 90

Doing Focused Research 92

Research and Critical Thinking 95

Writing and Pre-writing 98

Writing Better and Saving Time 99

Where Are You in the Process? 102

Chapter 3: Practice and Assessment Exercises 103

Self-Assessment: Test It Out #2 111

CHAPTER 4 Other Minds, Other Views: Addressing “the Other Side” and Cultivating Critical Thinking Traits of Mind 113

“The Other Side” 113

“Weakpoints” 115

Critical Thinking Traits of Mind 116

Three Problems in Thinking about “the Other Side” 124

Seeing “the Other Side” 125

Describing “the Other Side” Fairmindedly 134

Incorporating “the Other Side” into Your Paper 135

The Order of the Writing Process 137Chapter 4: Practice and Assessment Exercises 139*Self-Assessment: Test It Out #3 145*CHAPTER 5 Making the Paper Better:*Critical Thinking Standards and Socratic Questioning 149*Revising the Paper: Making It Better 149*The Standards of Critical Thinking 150*How the Standards Help 154*Interventions: Enriching Your Paper with Socratic Questioning 162*Making Socratic Questioning Interventions 164

Socratic Questions 165

Socratic Interventions in Practice: Extended Examples 168Writing Longer Papers 176*Chapter 5: Practice and Assessment Exercises 177*CHAPTER 6 Making It Flow, Making It Complete:*Content, Audience, Communication, and Criticality 185*Fundamental and Powerful Concepts 185*Making It Flow: Grammatical Issues 190

How Grammar Works in Writing 190

Impediments to Writing Grammatically 192

Practical Guidelines 194

Making It Complete 198

Giving Credit 198

Taking It Seriously 202

The Larger Vision and Looking Ahead 210

Chapter 6: Practice and Assessment Exercises 213

Responses to Starred Practice and Assessment Exercises 219

Bibliography 243

Endnotes 245

Index 251