

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Acknowledgments for Permissions	xi
List of Abbreviations and Acronyms	xiii
Maps	xv
A Brief Note on Spellings, Grammar, and Punctuation	xix
A Note on the Images in the Book	xxi
 Introduction. Paint and Power: A Personal Journey Through a Political Landscape	1
1 Hegemony: Loyalist Muralism from the Home Rule Crisis to the Troubles	25
2 Counter-Hegemony: The Emergence and Consolidation of Republican Muralism 1981–1993	57
3 Renewal of a tradition: The Re-emergence of Loyalist Muralism 1982–1993	93
4 Ending the War, Negotiating the Peace: The Evolution of Republican Muralism 1994–2006	125
5 Facing Out, Facing In: Peace Negotiation and Internecine Strife: Loyalist Murals 1994–2006	177
6 Managing History: Politics, Legacy, and Dissidence: Republican Murals 2007–2024	227
7 The Problem of Change: Settlement, Uncertainty, and Fragmentation: Loyalist Murals 2007–2024	273
8 The End of Muralism?	323
 Notes	333
 Bibliography	349