

Contents

Introduction	1
PART I. THE INDISPENSABLE RIGHT 21
1. Free Expression and the Human Condition	23
2. Ancient Speech and Natural Law	32
3. The British Experience: The Star Chamber, Blackstone, and the “Nonconformists”	38
4. The American Revolution and Madison’s Monster	49
PART II. THE AGES OF RAGE AND THE CRUCIBLE OF FREE SPEECH 67
5. The Boston Tea Party and America’s Birth in Rage	73
6. Shays’ Rebellion and the Rise of American Sedition	80
7. The Whiskey Rebellion and “Hamilton’s Insurrection”	88
8. Fries and the Faux Rebellion	96
9. Adams and the Return of “the Monster”	104
10. Jefferson and The Wasp	120
11. Jackson and the “Lurking Traitors” Among Us	126
12. Lincoln and the Copperheads	133
13. The Gilded Age and the Mobbing of “Free Speech”	138
14. Comstock and the Obscenity of Dissent	143
15. “Wobblies” and World War I	148
16. The Bund and the Biddle: Sedition in World War II	158
17. McCarthy and the Red Scare	164

18. Days of Rage: Race, Rhetoric, and Rebellion in the 1960s	169
19. Antifa, MAGA, and the Age of Rage	175
20. January 6th and the Revival of American Sedition	180
 PART III. HOLMES AND DOUSING THE FIRE OF FREE SPEECH
21. Holmes and the “Route to Hell”	197
22. Holmes and Schenck: The Socialist in a Crowded Theater	212
23. Holmes and the “Debs Rebellion”	218
24. The Good Holmes and the Abandonment of Schenck	225
 PART IV. RESTORING THE INDISPENSABLE RIGHT
25. Rockwellian Free Speech	237
26. Finding the Forty-Two of Free Speech	252
27. “False News” and Censorship by Surrogate	265
28. Academic Orthodoxy and the Restoration of Free Speech in Higher Education	285
29. Slaying Madison’s Monster: Ending Sedition and Speech Prosecutions	309
 PART V. CONCLUSION
Acknowledgments	349
Notes	351
Image Credits	407
Index	409