

CONTENTS

List of figures and tables	x
List of contributors	xiv
Preface	xvii
Acknowledgements	xix
1 INTRODUCING SOCIAL POLICY	1
Hugh Bochel and Guy Daly
What is social policy?	2
The structure of this book	7
Summary	7
Part 1: Context	11
2 THE SOCIO-ECONOMIC CONTEXT OF SOCIAL POLICY	13
Nick Ellison
Introduction	14
Changing employment patterns	16
Changing social divisions: class, gender and ethnicity	22
The changing nature of the welfare state	28
Conclusion	32
Summary	33
3 THE POLITICS AND GOVERNANCE OF SOCIAL POLICY	40
Catherine Bochel, Hugh Bochel and Guy Daly
Political parties	42
Pressure groups	46
The media	49
The governance of social policy	53
Models of governance	59
Conclusion	65
Summary	65
4 PAYING FOR THE WELFARE STATE AND TAXATION IN THE UK	69
Sally Ruane and David Byrne
Different ways of paying for the welfare state	71
Why taxation matters and why it matters to social policy	73
What types of taxes there are and what the main taxes are	75
Who pays and how taxation contributes to redistribution and inequality	79
Tax expenditure as an instrument of social policy	84
Taxation and public spending	86
Conclusion and summary	87
5 DEVOLUTION AND SOCIAL POLICY	90
Sharon Wright and Mark Simpson
Why does devolution matter?	91
What is devolution and how has it developed?	92
Funding devolution	96
What does devolution mean for England?	97
Local solutions to local problems?	97
What difference has devolution made?	98
Conclusions	105
Summary	106
6 RESEARCH, EVIDENCE AND SOCIAL POLICY	111
Hugh Bochel and Guy Daly
Policy and evidence	113
Post-war policy making	115
Critiques of evidence-based policy	119
Obstacles to evidence-based policy making	120

Evidence based or evidence informed policy? 123

Evaluation 124

Conclusions 125

Summary 126

Part 2: The development of social policy 131

7 THE DEVELOPMENT OF SOCIAL POLICY, 1800–1945 133

Bernard Harris

Introduction 134

Victorian origins of the welfare state 137

Welfare provision 1870–1906 140

Liberal welfare and the 'social service state' 143

Welfare between the wars 147

The Second World War and after 150

Conclusion 155

Summary 155

8 CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENTS AND THE WELFARE STATE SINCE 1945 166

Robert M. Page

Conservative governments and the welfare state from 1951 to 2016 172

'One Nation' Conservatism (ONC) and the welfare state 1951–1964 173

The Heath 'Interregnum'? Modern, technocratic conservatism and the welfare state 1970–1974 174

Neo-liberalism conservatism takes hold: the Thatcher governments and the welfare state 1979–1990 176

Main social policy developments 176

Third-term developments 177

Consolidating the revolution: the major governments and the welfare state, 1990–1997 178

Main social policy developments 179

Post-Thatcherite Conservative governments.

The Cameron era 2010–2017 181

The Conservative-Liberal Democrat Coalition government 2010–2015 182

Theresa May's social policy agenda 186

Summary 187

9 LABOUR GOVERNMENTS AND THE WELFARE STATE SINCE 1945 192

Robert M. Page

Labour's changing ideology 193

'Modern' social democracy/the 'third way' 195

The Attlee governments, 1945–1951: establishing a democratic socialist welfare state 197

The National Health Service 199

Housing 200

Education 201

Revisionist social democracy: labour governments in the 1960s and 1970s 203

The Wilson governments and the welfare state, 1964–1970 203

The Wilson and Callaghan governments 1974–1979 206

'Modern' social democracy and the third way:

New Labour and the welfare state, 1997–2010 208

Welfare to work 208

In work benefits, child and pensioner poverty 209

Welfare state reform 210

Education 210

Health care 211

Performance targets 213

Evaluating New Labour's welfare state reforms 213

Summary 214

Part 3: Themes and issues 219

10 INCOME MAINTENANCE, TAXATION, PENSIONS 221

Stephen McKay and Karen Rowlingson

Introduction 222

Cultural assumptions about tax and social security 223

The importance of social security and taxation 226

Defining social security and taxation 228

The aims of social security and taxation 230

An overview of the current systems 232

Taxation 235

Tacking fraud in social security and taxation 238

Recent reforms and future prospects 238

Conclusions 241

Summary 242

11 EMPLOYMENT AND LABOUR MARKET REFORMS: TOWARDS A RESIDUAL SAFETY NET? 245

Anne Daguerre

Introduction: what is welfare, what is welfare reform? 247

Unravelling the post-1945 consensus 248

The Conservative governments, 1979–1997, and WS 2.0 249

New Labour, 1997–2010 251

The Coalition government 2010–2015: the politics of radical austerity 254

The post 2015 welfare reform landscape: austerity fatigue kicks in 259

Conclusion 261

Summary 262

12 EDUCATION 267

Hugh Bochel and Guy Daly

Education provision pre-war 269

The post-war education settlement 270

1979–1997, the end of consensus 272

1997–2010, education, education, education? 275

The Conservative-Liberal Democrat Coalition and Conservative governments, 2010– 279

Private education 288

Inequalities and the attainment gap 289

Devolution 290

Conclusion 291

Summary 291

13 ADULT HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE 295

Jon Glasby and Guy Daly

The origins of current services 298

Current challenges and policy responses 301

Conclusion and summary 311

14 SOCIAL POLICY AND CLASS 317

Stephen Crossley

What do we mean by class? 319

The long history 322

Class and the welfare state 325

Welfare dependency and the 'underclass' 328

Contemporary class issues: austerity, 'troubled families' and 'early intervention' 331

Conclusion 334

Summary 335

15 CHILDREN AND FAMILIES 339

Harriet Churchill

Introduction 341

New Labour, children and families 342

Austerity and reform under the Coalition and Conservatives since 2010 350

Conclusions 356

Summary 357

16 YOUTH JUSTICE: CHANGING INSTITUTIONS, CHANGING CONTEXTS	361
Peter Squires
Introduction: the background noise of 'youth crime'	362
The shrinking youth justice system	363
Contrasting trends: falling rates of criminalisation, harder lives	370
The shock of the new: issues of neglect and vulnerability	374
Conclusions	377
Summary	379
17 HEALTH POLICY	385
Martin Powell
Introduction	386
Origins and development	386
The National Health Service	387
Conservative health policy (1979–1997)	388
New Labour health policy (1997–2010)	390
Coalition/conservative health policy (2010–)	394
The NHS at three score years and ten	398
Assessment	399
Conclusions	400
Summary	401
18 HOUSING POLICY	405
Guy Daly and Brian Lund
Introduction	407
Historical background	407
Housing policy under the New Right – residualised state involvement and the promotion of the market	410
New Labour's housing policy	413
The 'credit crunch' and housing under the Coalition government 2010–2015	419
The Conservative governments since 2015	421
Policy outcomes: 2010 to 2018	425
Devolution	428
Scotland	428
Wales	429
Northern Ireland	430
Conclusion	431
19 'RACE', ETHNICITY AND SOCIAL POLICY	437
Norman Ginsburg
'Race' and ethnicity	439
Racism	440
From 'race relations' to 'community cohesion', integrationism and 'race disparity'	442
Immigration and refugee policy	444
Anti-discrimination	447
Incomes and employment	448
Crime, policing and the criminal justice system	450
Schooling	453
Conclusions	456
Summary	457
20 GENDER AND SOCIAL POLICY	465
Kirstein Rummery
The foundations of the welfare state: the male breadwinner/carer model of social policy	468
Paid and unpaid work: gender inequality	470
Crime: violence against women and girls	474
Women making policy: political and public representation	479
Conclusions	484
Summary	485
21 DISABILITY AND SOCIAL POLICY	489
Alan Roulstone with Hugh Bochel
Background and policy context	490
Disability policy: a case of non-conformity to policy paradigms?	491

Policy frameworks and disabled people 494

An edifice of social rights: a foundation of economic citizenship? 496

Social welfare 500

Social care 504

Conclusions 506

Summary 507

Part 4: European and international developments 513

22 THE EUROPEAN UNION AND SOCIAL POLICY 515

Jonathan Hobson and Harry Cowen

The origins and growth of the European Union 517

The structures and processes of the European Union 522

Crisis and response 527

Social policy and the European Union 532

The future of the European Union 537

Conclusion and summary 539

23 GLOBALISATION AND SOCIAL POLICY 544

Harry Cowen, Demelza Jones and Kasia Narkowicz

Global social policy and institutions 547

Wealth distribution and income inequality 553

Transnational corporations (TNCs) and global inequalities 557

The politics of globalisation and the anti-globalisation movement 560

Conclusion and summary 562

24 CONCLUSIONS 568

Hugh Bochel and Guy Daly

Glossary of terms 573

Index 592