

Contents

1. Introduction	1
2. The Russian Empire until the Crimean War (1853–6)	29
3. The Late Russian Empire (1856–1917)	50
4. From Soviet Russia to the Soviet Union: The Interwar Period and the Second World War	86
5. Interwar Soviet International Law Scholars and the Buildup to the Nazi–Soviet Pact of 1939	110
6. The Cold War: Interpretations of Soviet State Identity, Federalism, and Self-Determination	133
7. The Cold War: Soviet Views on Treaties, Peaceful Coexistence, and Socialist International Law as Imperial Doctrines	154
8. From Perestroika to Putin’s Russia: Swinging Back to the Imperial Concept of International Law	183
9. In Conclusion	201
Bibliography	205
Index	235