

Contents

Acknowledgements	vi
1 Introduction to Property, Power and Human Rights	1
2 Lived truths: A critical engagement with universalism	12
3 'The guardian of every other rights': Challenging the liberal discourse of property in human rights law	34
4 Drafting a human right to property: Conflated notions, deflated hopes	69
5 What place for stories of property? Property in regional human rights case law	107
6 When stories matter: Challenging liberal orthodoxies through the margins	150
7 Property, access, and social participation	190
8 Empowerment before entitlement: Revisiting lived universalism	227
Bibliography	241
Index	261