

Table of contents

Acronyms and abbreviations	7
Introduction	9
SYSTEMIC CHANGES ON WHERE AND HOW HEALTH CARE IS DELIVERED WILL OPTIMISE BOTH QUALITY AND EFFICIENCY
Lesson 1. High-performing health care systems offer primary care as a specialist service that provides comprehensive care to patients with complex needs	14
Lesson 2. Patient-centred care requires more effective primary and secondary prevention in primary care	20
Lesson 3. High-quality mental health care systems require strong health information systems and mental health training in primary care.....	23
Lesson 4. New models of shared care are required to promote co-ordination across health and social care systems	27
HEALTH CARE SYSTEMS NEED TO ENGAGE PATIENTS AS ACTIVE PLAYERS IN IMPROVING HEALTH CARE, WHILE MODERNISING THE ROLE OF HEALTH PROFESSIONALS
Lesson 5. A strong patient voice is a priority to keep health care systems focussed on quality when financial pressures are acute	34
Lesson 6. Measuring what matters to people delivers the outcomes that patients expect.....	37
Lesson 7. Health literacy helps drive high-value care.....	40
Lesson 8. Continuous professional development and evolving practice maximise the contribution of health professionals	43
HEALTH CARE SYSTEMS NEED TO BETTER EMPLOY TRANSPARENCY AND INCENTIVES AS KEY QUALITY-IMPROVEMENT TOOLS
Lesson 9. High-performing health care systems have strong information infrastructures that are linked to quality-improvement tools.....	50
Lesson 10. Linking patient data is a pre-requisite for improving quality across pathways of care.....	54
Lesson 11. External evaluation of health care organisation needs to be fed into continuous quality-improvement cycles	56
Lesson 12. Improving patient safety requires greater effort to collect, analyse and learn from adverse events.....	59
Conclusions	63
Annex A. Policies that influence health care quality across 15 health systems	65