

Contents

List of tables and figures	5
Introduction.....	9
1 Economics and Opportunism	13
2 Opportunistic behaviour in the context of economic theory	17
2.1 Neoclassical economics and opportunism	18
2.2 Behavioural economics and opportunism	21
2.3 Institutional economics and opportunism	23
2.4 The Austrian school of economics and opportunism.....	24
2.5 Keynesian economics and opportunism.....	25
2.6 The Chicago school and opportunism	25
3 Opportunistic behaviour in public administration	27
4 Positive effects of opportunistic behaviour	33
4.1 The provision of innovative solutions and the circumvention of bureaucratic procedures.....	33
4.2 Examples of innovative approaches from opportunistic behaviour	34
4.3 Bureaucracy as a barrier to achieving results	36
4.4 Changing the management approach in a rigid environment.....	37
5 The political aspect of opportunism	39
6 Economic aspects of opportunism	47
6.1 Opportunism and corruption	47
6.2 Resource inefficiency and opportunism	55
6.3 The aspect of inconsistent short-term decision-making.....	60
6.4 The aspect of trust in institutions.....	64
6.5 The sociological aspect of opportunism	68
7 Aim and methods of investigation.....	70
8 Results and discussion.....	80
8.1 The political aspect of opportunism.....	84
8.2 Economic aspects of opportunism.....	92
8.3 The social aspect of opportunism	110

Summary 117

References 122

About the Authors 139

Subject Index 141