

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	ix
List of contributors	xi
Preface	xiii
1 Introduction: Approaches to the study of migration and social change Colin G. Pooley and Ian D. Whyte	1
Part I Emigration from the British Isles
2 Voices of British and Irish migrants in nineteenth-century Australia Eric Richards	19
3 From Irish countryside to American city: The settlement and mobility of Ulster migrants in Philadelphia Deirdre M. Mageean	42
4 Empire migration and social reform 1880–1950 Stephen Constantine	62
Part II Internal migration in Britain
5 Migration in early-modern Scotland and England: A comparative perspective Ian D. Whyte	87
6 The role of the family in the process of migration Kevin Schurer	106

vi Migrants, emigrants and immigrants

- 7 The longitudinal study of migration: Welsh migration to English towns in the nineteenth century 143
Colin G. Pooley and John C. Doherty
- 8 Women migrants in mind: Leaving Wales in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries 174
Kate Bartholomew

Part III Immigration to Britain

- 9 Historians and immigration 191
Colin Holmes
- Bibliography* 208
Index 227