

---

CONTENTS

---

Preface..... vii
Acknowledgements.....ix

PART I OVERVIEW

1. Authenticity ..... 3
    I. Introduction ..... 3
    II. What is the Point of Theory? ..... 5
        A. Functions ..... 5
        B. Authentication ..... 10
        C. Community-based Political Agendas ..... 12
    III. Structure..... 14

PART II METHODOLOGY

2. Orthodoxy.....27
    I. Introduction ..... 27
    II. Sources ..... 29
    III. The Consensus on Function ..... 37
    IV. The Basis of Disagreement..... 41
    V. Conclusion ..... 46

3. Justification as Definition .....47
    I. Introduction ..... 47
    II. Inverted Logic ..... 48
    III. Methodological Incoherence..... 55
    IV. Horizontality ..... 60
    V. Conclusion ..... 66

4. Proof.....67
    I. Introduction ..... 67
    II. Intuition ..... 69
        A. Differential Expectations ..... 69
        B. Differential Purposes ..... 74

C. Confirmation Bias ..... 75
D. Conclusion..... 78
III. Positive Law ..... 79
IV. Politics and History ..... 84
V. Conclusion..... 88

PART III
RESTATEMENT

5. The Problem of Individuality ..... 91
I. Introduction: Choices in Intellectual Design..... 91
II. Hegelian Freedom..... 95
III. Millian Freedom..... 106
IV. The Argument Revisited ..... 114
V. Conclusion: The Irrationality Standard ..... 119

6. Epistemology ..... 123
I. Introduction ..... 123
II. Reach ..... 124
III. Minimal/Maximal Uses of Epistemology ..... 131
IV. Feasibility ..... 138
V. Conclusion..... 145

7. Democratic Participation ..... 147
I. Introduction ..... 147
II. As a Self-Contained Principle ..... 149
III. As an Organising Principle..... 155
IV. As a Contingent Principle..... 162
A. Contingency in the Habermasian Conduit Function..... 162
B. Post's Uneasy Relationship with Autonomy..... 168
V. Conclusion..... 174

8. Irrationality ..... 176
I. Introduction ..... 176
II. Outline..... 177
III. Recalibration..... 180
A. Absolute Protection in Vertical Scenarios..... 180
B. Qualified Protection in 'Horizontal' Scenarios..... 183
C. No Audience Interest ..... 189
IV. Defence..... 190
V. Conclusion..... 197

PART IV
HORIZONTALITY

9. Digital Speech .....	201
I. Introduction .....	201
II. The US and European Position Outlined .....	202
III. Right-Duty or Right-No Right? .....	212
IV. Wrongdoing.....	220
V. Conclusion.....	231
10. Public Interest Speech .....	233
I. Introduction .....	233
II. Procedure.....	235
III. Substance.....	243
A. Structure .....	243
B. Neutralisation.....	244
C. Authentic Free Speech: Vertical Public Interest Matters.....	250
D. Inauthentic Free Speech: Horizontal Public Interest Matters.....	257
IV. Conclusion.....	263
11. Workplace Speech .....	267
I. Introduction .....	267
II. Context.....	267
III. Differentiation .....	273
IV. Nature.....	278
V. Conclusion.....	285

PART V
CONCLUSION

12. A Radical Restatement .....	289
I. Introduction .....	289
II. Meaning .....	291
III. Application.....	294
Index .....	299