
Contents

Foreword	xii
NEIL GOLD
Opening thoughts	xiv
RICHARD GRIMES
Contributors	xviii
PART A
Context and concepts	1
Introduction 1
1 Celebrating the difference: a U.S. educator's perspective on legal education under the civil and common law	3
PHILIP M. GENTY
2 Experiential learning from the continental viewpoint: if the cap fits . . .	13
CRISTINA AMATO
3 Experiential learning: just for 'common lawyers' – really?	27
RICHARD GRIMES AND ANNE-LISE SIBONY
PART B
Content and careers	45
Introduction 45
4 Re-thinking the learning and teaching	47
Part 1 – A case study from York 47
RICHARD HEDLUND

Part 2 – Don't talk at me, talk to me	60
TANYA WALKER
Part 3 – Clinic, employability and educational need	69
MEREDITH DANIEL
Part 4 – Shared potential despite the difference?	78
DAVID ROCCARO
5 Ethics and professional responsibility	87
Part 1 – Teaching and learning legal ethics: what, how and why?	87
DONALD NICOLSON
Part 2 – Teaching legal ethics under the civil law	96
JOSÉ GARCÍA-AÑÓN
Part 3 – Ethics, professionalism and the law	104
LAURA BUGATTI
6 Regulation and jobs – universities, the legal profession and other employers	114
Part 1 – Of tribes and territories – an employer and regulator perspective on re-thinking legal education	114
CHRIS MAGUIRE
Part 2 – Degree apprenticeships – a way forward?	129
STEPHEN LEVETT
7 Assessment in legal education: qualification or quantification?	135
JENNY GIBBONS
PART C
Countries and cases: examples of re-thinking	143
Introduction	143
8 The birth, growth and reproduction of clinical legal education in Spain	145
PILAR FERNÁNDEZ-ARTIACH, JOSÉ GARCÍA-AÑÓN AND RUTH M. MESTRE I MESTRE

9 Re-thinking legal education in Central and Eastern Europe	155
MICHAL URBAN, LIUBOU KRASNITSKAYA AND KATARZYNA J. KOWALSKA
10 The same but different: what can we learn from Canadian attitudes to legal education?	171
SUE PRINCE
11 The civil law tradition . . . but with clinics – a case study from Chile	181
JUAN P. BECA
12 Making a real change: legal education in Nigeria – partly re-imagined?	192
ERNEST OJUKWU
13 A reform agenda for Indian legal education	202
SHUVRO PROSUN SARKER
14 Beyond the boom: prospects for Australian legal education	211
JEFF GIDDINGS
15 Re-thinking at the sharp end – examples of experiential teaching and learning practice	227
Part 1 – Mock-trials in an accusatorial and inquisitorial context 227
DAVID MCQUOID-MASON
Part 2 – Teaching EU law in an experiential way 245
KATARZYNA GROMEK-BROC
Final words	254
RICHARD GRIMES
Index	257