

CONTENTS

Preface 7—10, Mediæval Universities 13—18, Learning and Education in Bohemia before the Foundation of the University 19—23, The Attempt of Wenceslas II to establish a University 23—25, The Desire of Educated Czechs for a University 25—26, Charles' First Steps 26—27, Who founded the University of Prague, the Roman Emperor or the King of Bohemia? 27—30, The Personality of Charles IV 31—33, Who founded Universities in the Fourteenth Century 34, The Papal Consent 35—36, The Consent of the Bohemian Diet 36—37, The Foundation Charter from the Point of View of Diplomacy and Style 37—40, The Contents of the Foundation Charter 40—46, The Seal of the University of Prague 46—48, Endowment of the University with Estates 48—49, Securing the Rights of the University on behalf of the Empire 49—52, Early University Life 52—56, The Chancellor of the University 56—61, The Influence of State and Church on Prague University 61—64, The Organisation of the University of Prague 64—65, The University Nations 65—72, The Faculties 72—76, The University of Law 76—78, The University Colleges in Prague 78—82, Life in the University and around it 82—88, The Spiritual Development and Importance of Prague University 88—94, The Struggles of Nationality 94—104, The Decree of Kutná Hora 104—110, The Importance of Prague University in the History of Europe and of the Czech Nation 110—115.

Some Important Documents from the Beginning of the Caroline University 117—137, The Charter of Pope Clement VI of 1347 119—121, its English Version 121—124, The Foundation Charter of Charles IV of 1348 125—126, its English Version 126—128, The Parchment of Charles IV, granting the rights of the University on behalf of the Holy Roman Empire, of 1349 129—130, its English Version 130—131, The Oldest Doctor's Diploma of Prague University of 1359 132—133, its English Version 133—134, King Wenceslas IV's Decree of Kutná Hora of 1409 135—136, its English Version 136—137

Sources and Literature 138—145.

List of Illustrations with some Explanatory Remarks 146—150.

Appendix: Illustrations I—XVI.