

Table of Contents

PART I: EDUCATION AS AN "AID TO LIFE" 1

Chapter 1: Prenatal Life 2

Introduction 2

The Development of the Nervous System 4

The Sensory Richness of Prenatal Life 7

Children's Experiences of Themselves 10

The Mother-Child Relationship during Pregnancy 10

Different Fetal States of Consciousness 13

Preparation for Birth 14

Chapter 2: Birth - Separation and Attachment 16

A Continuum of Experience:

A Different Place but the Same Person 16

The Newborn's Points of Reference 17

Separation and Attachment 19

The Concept of "Exterogestation" 21

The Significance of the Newborn's Helplessness 23

Basic Needs of the Newborn 24

Chapter 3: The Symbiotic Life of the First 6-8 Weeks 28

The Significance and Advantages of Symbiotic Life 28

Food for Biological Welfare 30

Food for Human Relationship 34

The Wisdom of Life 42

Basic Trust 44

Chapter 4 The Father's Presence 47

What is a "Father"? 47

The Importance of Both Parents 49

The Father during Pregnancy 51

The Father at Childbirth 52

The "Protective Barrier" of Symbiotic Life 54

The Father as a Help to Autonomy and Independence 56

PART II: EVERYTHING WE DO WITH THE CHILD IS 'EDUCATION' 59

Chapter 5: The Meaning of Maternal Care 60

What is Maternal Care? 60

"Holding" for Breast-Feeding and Intimacy 62

"Handling" for Care-Giving and Social Interaction 63

Internal Psychosomatic Unity 65

Chapter 6: Communication with the Child 68

Introduction 68

Non-verbal Communication in the Newborn 69

Special Communication between Mother and Child 70

Communication and Knowledge 73

Chapter 7: The Brain's Potential and the Absorbent Mind 75

The Amazing Brain 75

The Human "Hardware" 77

The Two Cerebral Hemispheres 80

The Absorbent Mind 83

The Different Components of the Human Mind 84

CHAPTER 8: Weaning 89

Food and Independence 89

A New Relationship with the Environment 90

Preparation for Weaning 93

Mixed and Artificial Feeding 99

PART III: INTEGRATED DEVELOPMENT OF THE HUMAN BEING 104

Chapter 9: The Development of Coordinated Movement 105

Introduction 105

Different Stages of Movement 107

An Environment for Movement 109

Movement and Knowledge 125

The Importance of Clothing in Movement 131

Chapter 10: The Development of Language 134

The Mystery of Spoken Language 134

The Stages of Language Development 136

Learning Several Languages 144

Chapter 11: The Developmental Crises of the First Three Years 148

Introduction 148

The Crisis of Birth 149

The Crisis of Weaning 151

The Crisis of Opposition 157

Chapter 12: Children's Education and the Future of Humanity 162

Conclusions 162

References 166