

CONTENTS

- Acknowledgements vii
- Introduction: The New Queer Gothic 1
- Part I
- 1 'She herself is a haunted house': The Origins of the New Queer Gothic in the Work of Twentieth-Century Women Writers 45
- 2 Miles away from Screwing? The Queer Gothic Child in Florence and Giles 87
- Part II
- 3 'What happened to my sweet girl?': Conventions of the New Queer Gothic and Queer Subjectivity in Black Swan and Jack & Diane 119
- 4 'The Saviour who came to tear my life apart': The Queer Postcolonial Gothic of The Handmaiden 143
- Part III
- 5 Queering the Cannibal in Raw 171
- 6 'She would never fall, because her friend was flying with her': Gothic Hybridity, Queer Girls and Exceptional States in The Icarus Girl and The Girl with all the Gifts 198

Conclusion: Queering Gender and Queers of Colour in the New Queer Gothic	225
---	-----

Notes	235
Bibliography	255
Index	277

Introduction: The New Queer Gothic

Part I

1 The Invention of the Gothic: The Origins of the	45
---	----

New Queer Gothic in the Work of Twentieth-Century

2 Women Writers	87
-----------------	----

3 'Miles away from screwing? The Queer Gothic Child	87
---	----

4 The right of Robyn Elliot to be identified as a British	119
---	-----

5 'What happened to my sweet girl? Conventions of	141
---	-----

6 The New Queer Gothic and Queer Subjectivity in	141
--	-----

7 The Queer Portcolonial Gothic of the Caribbean	141
--	-----

8 Queering the Cannibal in Ray	141
--------------------------------	-----

9 'She would never fall because her friend was flying	141
---	-----

10 with her: Gothic Hybridity, Queer Girls and Exceptional	141
--	-----

11 States in The Love Child and The Fall with the Girl	141
--	-----

12 Printed by the University of Wales Press, Cardiff	141
--	-----

