

Table of Contents

Preface.....	19
Meeting Ozawa sensei	26

I

Regular Training

Become one with the sword: practice, practice, practice	33
Sensei and student	37
At what age do the Japanese start practicing kendo?.....	42
When to start wearing kendo-gu (protective equipment)	43
Training children.....	44
“Kendo training should stop at 16 years of age”	52
Kendo development at different stages of life	52
How often to train	58
The Double "S" Effect	61
Patience.....	62
Humility in budo	63
Kendo in Ehime.....	68
Practice during different seasons	71
Training whilst pregnant	72
“Great kendo is practiced in small dojos ”	74
Smooth floor	74
Traditions.....	75
How to behave when visiting a traditional dojo	76
How to treat the elderly	85
Level of kendo	88

Beautiful, good and effective kendo.....	90
Kendo as recreation.....	93
Different formats of training with different groups.....	96
Clothing for kendo.....	106
Keikogi 稽古着 or 稽古衣 and also dogi 道着.....	106
Hakama 袴.....	107
Shinai 竹刀.....	109
Behaviour in the dojo	116
My personal experience of training.....	121
Training with the shinai	122
Fighting in chudan	122
Striking with the shinai	127
The shomen strike is the most basic strike.....	130
⑨ Maintaining posture when striking.....	131
Rensoku waza – continually attacking with two or more strikes..	155
Nidan waza – two step techniques and why we practice them	155
Disarming techniques.....	157
Theory of 0-1-0 (on or off / all or nothing).....	160
Long Theory of 0-1-0.....	161
Short Theory of 0-1-0.....	162
State of “being” 居.....	164
Theory of concentration.....	167
Uchikomigeiko , kakarigeiko , jigeiko and the role of motodachi	168
Kakarigeiko	169
Jigeiko	171

Jodan and theory of 4D space	176
Fighting in jodan	176
Fighting from chudan against jodan	192
Other kamae against jodan	199
Seme	202
Tsuba seme	212
Seme and the art of the hunter.....	214
Misogi 禊	218
Pain.....	221
Kendo kata practice	224
Details about kata practice.....	228
Training with a real sword.....	235
Makiwara 巻藁.....	236
Mekugi 目釘	238
Test cutting tameshigiri from the Ten Nen Ri Shin Ryu school.....	239
Examples of basic cuts	242
The theory of making a horizontal cut	246
Cuts made with one hand – katate	250

II

Competitions

How to win a competition.....	254
Never think of the victory – mushin 無心	255
The organisation of competitions.....	256
All Japan Kendo Championship.....	260
Kendo or “ shinai do”? Does “sport kendo” exist at all?	266

Practical preparations for competition.....	269
My physical preparations for competitions.....	276
My personal experience from competitions	280
The referee in kendo.....	282
Level of the referees.....	283
My personal experiences as a referee.....	285
Kokorogamae of the referee	289
⑨ How to judge children's competition	296
Other rules which are applied by the referees	297

III

Dan Grading

Dan grading in kendo.....	302
How dan grades are awarded in kendo	303
The Closed Circle – achievement at the highest level.....	305
⑨ Finding the balance of arbitrary bodies in a space.....	307
Basic rules for passing the examination	308
The principle of an inverted pyramid	309
The grades.....	313
Canadian Kendo Federation grade requirements.....	333
Not taking examinations on principle.....	337
Some interesting things to close with	339
Baffling contradictions and challenges.....	342
Epilogue	343
Acknowledgement	344
⑨ Kobukan dojo in Prague	345