

Feminist Political Geography offers an incisive critique of what 'counts' as politics in the study of human geography. It challenges assumptions about the spaces where politics happens, especially dissolving the boundaries around public, private, body, and home. Structured into four sections that go from the origins of Feminist Political Geography to its futures, this handbook is the definitive, state-of-the-art survey of this vibrant sub-discipline.

Sydney Calkin is Reader in Human Geography at Queen Mary University of London. Dr Calkin is an interdisciplinary feminist social scientist with interests in political geography and International Relations. She is the author of Abortion Pills Go Global: Reproductive Freedom Across Borders (2023) and the co-editor of After Repeal: Rethinking Global Abortion Politics (2020), co-edited with Kath Browne. Her current work explores self-managed health and pharmaceutical geographies in sexual, reproductive and LGBTQ health.

Cordelia Freeman is Senior Lecturer in Human Geography at the University of Exeter. Dr Freeman is a political geographer whose work primarily explores borders, mobility and reproduction, with a particular interest in Latin America. Her recent research concerns the mobilities of abortion in Latin America which is the focus of her book Magic Misoprostol: Reproductive Justice and Abortion Liberation in Latin America (2025). Her current work examines reproductive justice amidst chemical pollution.

THE SERIES: DE GRUYTER CONTEMPORARY SOCIAL SCIENCES HANDBOOKS

The De Gruyter Contemporary Social Sciences Handbooks showcase peer-reviewed and original material that offers a comprehensive review of emerging topics in the broad social sciences. The handbooks feature an interdisciplinary approach and additionally offer an applied section, summarised policy solutions, an overview of new subject-based research methods and identify key questions within the discipline.

www.degruyterbrill.com

ISBN 978-3-11-128877-2

ISSN 2747-9269

Contents

Acknowledgements — V

Cordelia Freeman and Sydney Calkin

1 Introduction — 1

Part I: Foundations

Madelaine C. Cahuas, Sydney Calkin, Cordelia Freeman, Malene H. Jacobsen, Olivia Mason, Hanieh Molana, Aparna Parikh, and Nokuzola Songo

2 The Feminist Geography Of Feminist Political Geography — 15

Virginie Mamadouh

3 Feminist Geopolitics — 33

Jasmine Joanes

4 Intimate Geopolitics — 51

Elisabeth Militz and Carolin Schurr

5 Nationalism — 65

Laura Loyola-Hernández

6 De/coloniality — 77

Linn Biorklund and Jennifer Hyndman

7 Decolonizing Feminist Geopolitics — 89

Rachel Pain, Emma Bloodgood, and Catherine Gilbert

8 Trauma — 103

Sara Koopman

9 Peace — 115

Part II: Critical Interventions

Grace Adeniyi-Ogunyankin, Adesoji Babalola, and Kendall Witaszek

10 Black Futurity — 129

Hemangini Gupta

11 Racial Capitalism — 141

Christopher Lizotte

12 Populism — 153

Claire McGing

13 Electoral Democracy — 165

Chantelle Lewis, Morag Rose, Bethan Evans, and Levi Gahman

14 Crip Geographies — 177

Robert Chlala

15 Queer Geographies — 189

Sage Brice

16 Trans Geographies — 201

Rosa Dos Ventos Lopes Heimer

17 Cuerpo-Territorio — 213

Anna Jackman

18 Geographies Of Technology — 227

Ariel Otruba and Jenny R. Isaacs

19 More-Than-Human Geographies — 239

Ed Kiely

20 Austerity — 251

Nora Komposch

21 Labor — 263

Claudia Rivera-Amarillo

22 Health — 275

Zoe Lee-Park

23 Environmental Justice — 287

Part III: Spaces

Johanne Bruun

24 Territory — 303

Almudena Cabezas González

25 The Nation-State — 315

Kate Coddington

26 The Border — 329

Karen Culcasi

27 Spaces Of Refuge And Asylum — 341

Sydney Calkin and Cordelia Freeman

28 The Body — 353

Jesse Connuck

29 Home — 367

Emily Reid-Musson

30 The Workplace — 379

Estelle Broyer

31 The City — 391

Carly Thomsen and Lillian Nagengast

32 The Rural — 403

Rachael Squire and Kimberley Peters

33 The Ocean — 415

Miriam Matthiessen, Jessica Steinman, Jess Bier, and Irene van Oorschot

34 The Ship — 427

Paula Soto Villagrán

35 Public Transport — 439

Subhashri Sarkar and Anu Sabhlok

36 Infrastructure — 451

Unusah Aziz and Deirdre Conlon

37 The Prison — 461

Lindsay Naylor

38 Food — 475

Part IV: Methodologies

Rishika Mukhopadhyay

39 Postcolonial Positionality — 487

Jen Bagelman and Caroline (Carly) Bagelman

40 Digital Methods And Community-Engaged Research — 499

Ana Laura Zavala Guillen, Itzel San Roman Pineda, Ariana Markowitz, Jennifer Veenstra, Vevila Dornelles, and Pietra Cepero Rua Perez

41 Fieldwork — 511

Emily Billo and Kelsey Hanrahan

42 Ethnography — 525

Aya Nassar

43 Creative Political Geography — 537

Olivia Mason

44 Mobile Methods — 549

Laura Fenton and Sarah Marie Hall

45 Life Histories — 563

Shawntal Z. Brown

46 Black Feminist Literary Methods — 575

Francesca Moore

47 Historical Approaches — 587

List of Contributors — 599

Index — 607