

Table of Contents

Preface	9
1 Introduction	17
Jan van 't Verlaat and Gerard Wigmans
1.1 Introduction	17
1.2 Social Context	20
1.3 Policy Context	24
1.4 Actors	26
1.5 Management	29
1.6 Urban Area Development	31
2 City and Social Context	33
Gerard Wigmans
2.1 Introduction	33
2.2 Society and the Urban Challenge	34
2.3 Network Society	36
2.4 The City	38
2.5 Place and Identity	39
2.6 Cities as Hubs	41
2.7 Entrepreneurial Urban Politics and Fragmentation in Urban Policy	43
2.8 Governance	46
2.9 Implications for Urban Area Development	47
2.10 Urban Network Dynamics	49
3 Management of Urban Development	53
Marco van Hoek and Gerard Wigmans
3.1 Introduction	53
3.2 Urban Management	54
3.3 An Integrated Development Vision	57
3.4 Organising Capacity as Conceptual Model for Management	58
3.5 City Marketing	61
3.6 Examples of Managing Urban Area Development	63
3.7 Reflections on the Theory of Urban Management	70

4	Urban Area Development	77
	Jan van' t Verlaat and Gerard Wigmans
4.1	Introduction	77
4.2	Infrastructure	77
4.3	Sectors and Facets	79
4.4	The Challenge of Balance	82
4.5	Spatial Quality and Market Quality	85
4.6	Optimisation of an Equilateral Triangle	87
4.7	Phases	91
5	Legal Framework	95
	Monika Chao-Duivis, Fred Hobma, Elisabeth Schutte-Postma
5.1	Introduction	95
5.2	The Initiation Phase	96
5.3	The Planning Phase	107
5.4	The Realisation Phase	114
5.5	Procedure Management	117
6	Process Management	119
	Agnes Franzen
6.1	Introduction	119
6.2	The Commissioning Party in Urban Area Development	119
6.3	The Differences between Line, Project and Process Management	121
6.4	Management of the Built Environment	124
6.5	Theory and Practice	124
6.6	Content, Process and Communication	128
6.7	Position and Skills of the Process Manager	129
6.8	Using Design as Vehicle for the Development Process	130
6.9	Process Architecture, Analysis Models and Intervention Strategies	132
6.10	Conclusion	138
7	Management of Spatial Quality	141
	Agnes Franzen and Gerard Wigmans
7.1	Introduction	141
7.2	What is Spatial Quality?	142
7.3	A Seductive Vision on the Part of a Designer	145
7.4	Safeguarding an Integrated Plan	146
7.5	Using an Objective Checklist	148
7.6	Combining Approaches	150
7.7	Spatial Quality through Good Process Management	151
7.8	Managing Static and Dynamic Quality	152
7.9	Managing Spatial Quality in Practice	154
7.10	Conclusion	156

8	Market Research and Feasibility Studies	159
	Damo Holt
8.1	Introduction	159
8.2	The Role of Market Demand	160
8.3	Marketing an Area and Market Research	161
8.4	The Value Chain of Urban Area Developments	162
8.5	Markets and Market Mechanisms	168
8.6	The Objective of Market Research	169
8.7	Market Research Methods and Techniques	171
8.8	Conclusion	178
9	Financial Engineering	181
	Ruben Hummels and Sander de Clerck
9.1	Introduction	181
9.2	The Perspective of the Various Parties	181
9.3	Financial Structure of Area Development	183
9.4	Costs and Returns	185
9.5	Making the Project Feasible and Optimising Results	188
9.6	Capital Requirement and Return	189
9.7	Fiscal Considerations	191
9.8	Risk Management	192
9.9	Development Strategy	195
9.10	Conclusion	198
10	Quantitative Urban Management Instruments	199
	Peter Barendse, Sjoerd Bijleveld and Peter-Paul van Loon
10.1	Introduction	199
10.2	Theories on Decision Making Processes	200
10.3	Overview of Quantitative Urban Management Instruments	204
10.4	The Urban Decision Room	205
10.5	RICARDO	211
11	Successful Urban Area Development	219
	Fred Hobma
11.1	Introduction	219
11.2	Success and failure factors	222
11.3	Three Different Levels of Success Factors	223
11.4	A few methodological remarks	235
11.5	Conclusion	235
	Index	237
	Biography editors and authors	245