

Contents

Maps	xi
Genealogical Tables	xiv
Note on Names, Money, and Distances	xxi
Introduction	I
I: Beginnings (1420–1437)
1: “King of all the world”	15
2: “We were in perfect health”	28
3: “Born to be king”	41
4: “Oweyn Tidr”	58
II: What Is a King? (1437–1455)
5: “My Lord of Suffolk’s good lordship”	73
6: “A dear marriage”	83
7: “Away, traitors, away!”	98
8: “Then bring in the duke of York”	117
9: “Smitten with a frenzy”	132
III: The Hollow Crown (1455–1471)
10: “Princess most excellent”	149
11: “Suddenly fell down the crown”	165
12: “Havoc”	179

13: "The noble and the lowly"	192
14: "Diverse times"	210
15: "Final destruction"	222

IV: The Rise of the Tudors (1471-1525)

16: "To execute wrath"	245
17: "The only imp now left"	258
18: "Judge me, O Lord"	277
19: "War or life"	293
20: "Envy never dies"	307
21: "Blanche Rose"	319
Epilogue	332

Notes	341
Bibliography	367
Index	379