

Contents

Editorial Preface

Jane Caplan, Timothy Garton Ash, Jürgen Kocka, Gerhard Ritter, Nicholas Stargardt and Margit Szöllösi-Janze vii

Introduction

Manfred Hildermeier 1

1 National Socialist and Stalinist Rule: The Possibilities and Limits of Comparison 5

Ulrich Herbert

2 Burgher and Town: Typological Differences and Functional Equivalents 23

Manfred Hildermeier

3 Republicanism versus Monarchy? Government by Estates in Poland-Lithuania and the Holy Roman Empire, Sixteenth to Eighteenth Centuries 36

Michael G. Müller

4 The Impact of Religion on the Revolutions in France (1789) and Russia (1905/17) 48

Martin Schulze Wessel

5 Dictatorships of Unambiguity: Cultural Transfer from Europe to Russia and the Soviet Union, 1861–1953 59

Jörg Baberowski

6 Europe and the Culture of Borders: Rethinking Borders after 1989 73
Karl Schlögel

7 Civil Society in Nineteenth-Century Europe: Comparison and Beyond 85
Jürgen Kocka

Bibliography 101

Notes on Contributors 117

Index 120

Bergahn Books
www.bergahnbooks.com
©2007 Manfred Hildner

1 National Socialism and Stalinist Rule: The Possibilities and Limits of Communist Campaigns in Poland
Ulrich Herbert

2 Burger and Town: Typological Differences and Functional Equivalents
Manfred Hildner

3 Republicanism versus Monarchy: Government in France in Poland-Lithuania and the Holy Roman Empire, Sixteenth to Eighteenth Centuries
Michael G. Müller

4 The Impact of Religion on the Revolution in France (1789) and Russia (1905/17)
Martin Schulz-Wend