

Contents

Contents	5
1 Sociology as a study of society: its determination, legitimacy,	9
2 The development of sociology: traditional society, modernization, new problems, new science	12
2.1 The Social Transformation.....	12
2.2 The beginnings of sociology and the origin of sociology as a science.....	14
2.2.1 Auguste Comte.....	15
2.2.2 Herbert Spencer.....	17
3 Social behaviour: socialization, enculturation, acculturation, institutions, groups, roles, control	18
3.1 Social behaviour.....	18
3.2 Socialization.....	19
3.3 Talcott Parsons.....	21
3.4 George Herbert Mead.....	22
3.5 Culture.....	23
3.6 Social norms.....	24
3.7 Enculturation.....	26
3.8 Acculturation.....	26
3.9 Institutionalized behaviour.....	27
3.10 Social role and social position.....	29
3.11 Social control.....	32
4 Social behaviour: Marx, Durkheim, Weber, Schütz, Goffman, Habermas	36
4.1 Karl Marx.....	37
4.2 Emile Durkheim.....	38
4.3 Max Weber.....	40
4.4 Alfred Schütz.....	43
4.5 Erving Goffman.....	45

4.6	Jürgen Habermas	47
5	Social acting: social capital, social mobility, current tendencies	49
5.1	Social capital.....	49
5.2	Social networks	51
5.3	Social mobility	53
5.4	Social stratification.....	54
5.5	Social status.....	55
6	Social system: paradigmatic approaches (consensus, conflict, interpretation)	58
6.1	Social system	58
6.2	Paradigm	60
6.3	Consensual paradigm.....	63
6.4	Social conflict paradigm	63
6.5	Interpretative paradigm.....	64
6.6	Structural functionalism.....	66
7	Social organization as a social system	68
7.1	Social organization	69
7.2	Bureaucratic organization	71
8	Research: situation, strategy, method	75
8.1	Situation	77
8.2	Research strategy and research methods	78
8.3	Research methods.....	80
8.4	The procedures of sociological research	85
8.5	The sociological research techniques	86
8.5.1	Observation	87
8.5.2	The conversation technique - interview.....	87
8.5.3	Questionnaire	87
8.5.4	Enquiry.....	88

8.5.5	Experiment.....	89
8.5.6	Document study.....	89
8.6	The questions sequence in data acquisition techniques and types of questions	90
8.7	Theoretical and empirical level of sociological cognition	96
8.8	Phases of sociological research	97
8.9	Outcomes distortions	99
9	Qualitative research: subject, object, comprehension, interpretation	103
9.1	Sources of the qualitative research.....	103
9.2	The advantages and disadvantages of qualitative and quantitative research	106
9.3	Data acquisition in qualitative research and interpretation of results	108
10	Quantitative research	112
10.1	Phases of quantitative research	112
11	Literature	116