

Contents

- Contributors vii
- Conventions used in this book xv
- Preface xvii
- 1 Music, phenomenology, time consciousness: meditations after Husserl 1
David Clarke
 - 2 Phenomenology and the 'hard problem' of consciousness and music 29
Eugene Montague
 - 3 Technicity, consciousness, and musical objects 47
Michael Gallope
 - 4 Listening, consciousness, and the charm of the universal: what it feels like for a Lacanian 65
Ian Biddle
 - 5 Enactive consciousness, intertextuality, and musical free improvisation: deconstructing mythologies and finding connections 79
Bennett Hogg
 - 6 The music of what happens: mind, meditation, and music as movement 95
Ansuman Biswas
 - 7 'In the heard, only the heard . . .': music, consciousness, and Buddhism 111
Bethany Lowe
 - 8 North Indian classical music and its links with consciousness: the case of dhrupad 137
David Clarke and Tara Kini
 - 9 From formalism to experience: a Jamesian perspective on music, computing, and consciousness 157
Meurig Beynon
 - 10 Music, language, and kinds of consciousness 179
Lawrence M. Zbikowski
 - 11 Music perception and musical consciousness 193
Eric Clarke

- 12 Towards a theory of proprioception as a bodily basis for consciousness in music 215
Alicia Peñalba Acitores
- 13 Sound-action awareness in music 231
Rolf Inge Godøy
- 14 Music, consciousness, and the brain: music as shared experience of an embodied present 245
Andy McGuinness and Katie Overy
- 15 Drugs, altered states, and musical consciousness: reframing time and space 263
Jörg Fachner
- 16 Music and ayahuasca 281
Benny Shanon
- 17 Consciousness and everyday music listening: trancing, dissociation, and absorption 295
Ruth Herbert
- 18 Practical consciousness and social relation in MusEcological perspective 309
Tia DeNora
- 19 Public consciousness, political conscience, and memory in Latin American nueva canción 327
Richard Elliott
- 20 The psychic disintegration of a demi-god: conscious and unconscious in Striggio and Monteverdi's L'Orfeo 343
Jeffrey Kurtzman
- Index 375