

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Author note	xiii
Shadows in the forest	1
Shaky starts	4
My path to Pattani	11
Soccer, anyone?	18
Wandering and wondering	31
Fishing lessons with Haji Salim and Kak Amina	36
The mysterious world of the wairun	45
Trying to keep an open mind	51
The horrors of Kru Se and Tak Bai	56
When music is a sin	62
The village singles' team	64
They were yours all along	70
The trouble with the tadika	80
Sex Pistols and sarongs: Late nights with the wairun	86
The cost of composure	92
Escape to the Pranang Peninsula	94
Losing my grandmother	106
Finding a place in Siti's backyard	109
The wonders of Phuket	114
The end of the World Cup and the start of conversation	118
Men, women, and the rules of engagement	124

Breaching barriers 128

Acts of affection 132

How to create a tinderbox 136

Love, marriage, and durian 140

The passing of a life, and the power of a ponoh 146

Inside the walls of Ponoh Pummiwittaya 154

“Why are you so brave?” 164

Homegrown hand-jive: Dike hulu on the beach 167

The problem with government schooling 178

Time to go home 184

Different shapes of happiness 188

Just enough 193

Notes 199