

Contents

List of Boxes and Tables	xi
Preface	xiii
A theory and methodology for historical consciousness	xiii
Rationale	xviii
Broader relevance	xxiv
Acknowledgments	xxvii
Introduction: Why a Practical Life Methodology for Historical Consciousness?	3
Knowledge, reflexivity, and human becoming	3
The role of history	6
The workings of our historical consciousness	10
Historical consciousness's practical life methodology	11
The history-for-practical-life methodology's design and function	13
A social problem with historical roots: English-speaking Quebec and its quest for survival	22
Community leaders' epistemic thinking and the potentials for making positive social change	25
The practical life methodology's six main implications	28
Overview of the book's contents	31
1 Historical Consciousness and Practical Life	36
History as an everyday life practice	38
Historical consciousness as being historical in the now	41
The now, its role and function	42
The flow of our historicity in the now	48
Historical sense-making in the now moment of enactment	54

- 2 The Practical Life Methodology: Schematic Narrative Templates 60
- Using historical knowledge to construct meanings of time's flow* 61
 - Space of experience and horizon of expectations in the now zone of actualization* 63
 - Historical sense-making in the now zone of actualization* 68
 - Narrative and schematic narrative templates* 72
 - History-as-interpretive-filter and history-as-content-configuration* 77
 - Stage one: Accessing schematic narrative templates* 80
 - Six steps to accessing interpreting-actors' schematic narrative templates* 82
 - Prompts for steps four to six: Inductively developing function and the templates* 90
- 3 The Practical Life Methodology: Enactment 96
- Historical consciousness as a form of cultural practice* 96
 - Sociocultural theory and mediated action* 97
 - Historical culture and cultural memory* 99
 - History-as-interpretive-filter as a conceptual resource of epistemic thinking* 103
 - Stage two: Accessing enactment* 110
 - Prompts for inductively grasping enactment* 117
- 4 Schematic Narrative Templates, Correlations, and Epistemic Enactments 121
- Description of the narrative data* 122
 - Schematic narrative templates and their correlations for constructing historical knowledge* 128
 - Five main epistemic stances for enacting historical knowledge* 145
- 5 HISTORY IS AN INSTRUMENT FOR POSITIVE OUTCOMES and Key Community Leader Stances 159
- HISTORY IS AN INSTRUMENT FOR POSITIVE OUTCOMES* 161
 - Enacting HISTORY IS AN INSTRUMENT FOR POSITIVE OUTCOMES for social change* 191
- 6 HISTORY IS GROUP EMPOWERMENT and Key Community Leader Stances 195
- HISTORY IS GROUP EMPOWERMENT* 195
 - Enacting HISTORY IS GROUP EMPOWERMENT for social change* 221
- 7 Historical Consciousness, Practical Life, and Social Change 225
- Historical consciousness and mobilizing concerted social action* 228
 - The five epistemic stances and their impact on mobilizing concerted action for social change* 232

8 The Practical Life Methodology's Main Implications and New Pathways for Future Research 240

History-as-interpretive-filter as the propeller of our historical sense-making 240

The intention-actualization dynamic 242

Emotions and moral reasoning 244

Reflexive thinking 247

The change-making process and its different variations 249

Pedagogical potentials 251

Conclusion 260

Appendix 1: Example for Coding Schematic Narrative Templates 269

Appendix 2: Example for Coding Enactment 293

References and Additional Readings 301

Index 319